"During the run from Yokohama to shonolulu the seas were the worst i have ever experienced, and continued practically throughout the entire run. The weather conditions from Honolula to Cavite were better, and on the whole the trip was an easy and comfortable one. During this run of practically 8.500 miles to Cavite were better, and on the whole the trip was an easy and comfortable one. During this run of practically 8.500 miles to Cavite no repairs or overhauling were done on the engines or any of the vessels by any outside force, and only such was a done by the force on board each vessel as the short time of the stay of the vessels at Honolulu when not occupied in coaling. The speed maintained by the battleship squadron from Yokohama to Honolulu was twelve and a half knots. The battleship squadron arrived in Cavite, after this run, in as good condition as when it started out from Yokohama, and ready for any service that it might be called upon to perform. The same could be said of the cruiser squadron, with the exception of the Cincinnati, which needed a new air pump rod."

CASE OF SENATOR SMCOT. Must Be Judged by Practice, Not Belief.

The investigation by the senate's committee on privileges and elections has taken such a wide range that the real issue is popularly overlooked. Some admissions have been made by witnesses which are very damaging to the Mormon church. Joseph F. Smith, the church's head, has testified that he has conabited with several wives, not only since the anti-polygamy manifesto of President Woodruff was promulgated in 1896, but since the admission of Utah with its anti-polygamy constitution and statutes in 1896. The man who stands next in the line of succession to President Smith has made like admissions regarding himself, Other witnesses have testified along the same line. (St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

has made like admissions regarding himself. Other witnesses have testified along the same line.

But this has no necessary bearing on the case of Mr. Smoot. It is not charged that the senator is now a polygamist or ever was one. The accusation that he had more than one wife was dropped long ago. The purpose, or ostensible purpose, of the inquiry is to ascertain the truth or falsity of the charge that his eath as a high official of the Mormon church makes his allegiance to the country. All the disclosures which have thus far been made are irrelevant, so far as regards the case for which the inquiry was instituted.

If, in the investigation of the senator himself, it he ascertained that his oath as one of the apostles makes him a Mormon church official first and a citizen of the United States second, then the senate will have a case against him. His helief in the religious sanctity, or alleged sanctity, of polygamy has nothing to do with the matter. Practices and not beliefs are the things that the law of the United States concerns itself with. Under the constitution and the statutes the Mormon church is on an equality with the Episcopalian, the Methodist, the Catholic, the Presbyterian, the Jewish and all other religious denominations. There is no established church in this country. Joseph Smith's confession renters him liable to punishment by the laws of his state, but his punishment, and that of the other Mormons who acknowledge that they are practicing polygamy, have not the shadow of a bearing on the case of Senator Smoot, This vital fact will be kept in mind by the senate when takes final action in this inquest.

Unquestionably President Smith has intringed state and federal statutes and the anons which society decrees and supports for its own protection and preservation. He has been and still is living inder an environment which must be intally revolting to the overwhelming oulk of American people, so antipodal is to those dear bonds which surround the father, the mother, the wife, and the susband. The covert support which his estimony demonstrates the church is offering plural marriage must be rigorously extirpated by national legislation.
